

elcometer® 2290 Daniel Flow Gauge

This simple instrument is used to assess the ability of thick or paste-like materials such as paints or printing inks to flow.

The product is poured into a semi-cylindrical reservoir. When the instrument is lifted vertically, the product runs on a graduated plate, which is fixed perpendicular to the reservoir. The distance covered in a given time is a measure of the fluidity.

Part Numbers

Model	Description	Part Number
Elcometer 2290/1	Daniel Flow Gauge	K0002290M001